Auction Napa Valley Lifetime Achievement Award

Honoring Robin Lail

What makes Auction Napa Valley so special year after year is the vintner community whose vision brings it to life.

During the Live Auction and Dinner Celebration, we will honor Robin Lail, whose leadership and dedication have helped shape Auction Napa Valley since its very beginning.

In 1981, she played a pivotal role in bringing vintners together and leading the planning committee that created Auction Napa Valley. Over the decades, her commitment has remained constant.

Auction Napa Valley's success reflects the vision of leaders like Robin, whose story is inseparable from that of the region itself.

Raised among the vines of Inglenook, founded by her great-granduncle Gustave Niebaum in 1879, she grew up at the winery, watching harvests and learning about the vineyards from her father and legendary winemaker, John Daniel Jr.

Her story is not only one of legacy, but also one of ingenuity. From her early days working alongside Robert Mondavi during Napa's modern renaissance, to her role in launching iconic wineries including Dominus Estate with Christian Moueix, Merryvale Vineyards with Bill Harlan and Lail Vineyards with her daughters Erin Lail and Shannon Lail, Robin has helped shape Napa Valley into the world-class region it is today.

As we gather at Inglenook, where Robin's story began, this special setting offers a meaningful connection to her journey and an opportunity to reflect on the legacy she helped build.

By taking part in this year's live auction, you become part of that legacy, continuing the spirit of generosity that Robin has helped to inspire for more than four decades.

LOT 3

Gamble Estates with Andy Erickson, Julien Fayard, Ashley Hepworth, Maayan Koschitzky, Philippe Melka & Thomas Rivers Brown

The Riverbound Collective: Seven Visions from A Single Vineyard

At the confluence of Conn Creek and the Napa River, in the heart of Yountville, lies a rare site where water, fog and farming tradition converge to create one of the valley's most compelling expressions of Sauvignon Blanc. Riverbound Vineyard—an extraordinary parcel stewarded by third-generation farmer and first-generation vigneron, Tom Gamble of Gamble Estates—is the inspiration for this singular Auction Napa Valley lot.

Led by Tom Gamble, seven esteemed Napa Valley producers unite to celebrate the remarkable character of Riverbound Sauvignon Blanc. Bound by two waterways, the vineyard enjoys a naturally cooler microclimate where morning fog lingers longer than in surrounding sites. The result is fruit of remarkable tension, aromatic complexity and structure: Sauvignon Blanc with the depth and longevity collectors rarely expect from the varietal.

This lot offers a rare “single vineyard, multi-vision” experience. All participating wineries source fruit directly from Riverbound, each interpreting the same terroir through its own philosophy and craft. The roster reads like a who's who of modern Napa Valley winemaking, including Andy Erickson, Julien Fayard, Ashley Hepworth, Maayan Koschitzky, Philippe Melka and Thomas Rivers Brown—a collective of visionary talents shaping the future of Napa Valley wine.

The winning bidder and eleven guests will be welcomed to Tom Gamble's private River House Estate, overlooking the vineyard itself, for an unforgettable evening. As twilight settles over Riverbound Vineyard, guests will gather for an intimate winemaker dinner celebrating the site's distinctive expression. A multi-course menu will be prepared by a celebrated chef whose ingredient-driven approach aligns with Riverbound Vineyard's regenerative farming philosophy and the purity of Sauvignon Blanc.

Throughout the evening, each winery will pour its flagship Sauvignon Blanc, demonstrating how one vineyard inspires seven extraordinary interpretations. The night promises rare conversation, profound wines and the shared passion of vintners whose families and friendships trace back to the earliest chapters of Napa Valley.

The experience continues long after the evening ends. The winning bidder will take home a 72-bottle collector's cellar featuring flagship Sauvignon Blanc and red wines from each participating winery, including rare large formats where available.

More than a dinner or a cellar—it is a statement: Napa Valley Sauvignon Blanc, grown at Riverbound, belongs among the world's greatest collectible wines.

LOT 7

Stag's Leap Wine Cellars and Chateau Montelena

The Judgment of Paris: An Enduring Legacy

In 1976, the world tasted history.

At the legendary Judgment of Paris, Napa Valley rose from a promising vinous frontier to a global force. In a blind tasting that stunned the French establishment, two California wines outscored the most revered bottles of Bordeaux and Burgundy. The shockwaves reshaped the hierarchy of fine wine and forever elevated Napa Valley onto the world stage.

Now, fifty years later, you are invited not simply to remember that moment, but to own it, extend it and define its future.

This unprecedented lot commemorates the 50th anniversary with two of the rarest and most culturally significant wines ever produced: the 1973 Chardonnay from Chateau Montelena and the 1973 S.L.V. Cabernet Sauvignon from Stag's Leap Wine Cellars. These are not merely bottles; they are artifacts of triumph. The only two American wines preserved in the permanent collection of the Smithsonian Institution. Icons of craftsmanship. Symbols of a region's audacity. With only a handful of bottles remaining worldwide, their rarity is absolute.

Yet this offering does not end with history—it accelerates into creation.

In 2027, you will collaborate directly with Stag's Leap Wine Cellars winemaker Marcus Notaro and Chateau Montelena winemaker Matt Crafton in private consultations to craft two bespoke Cabernet Sauvignons tailored precisely to your palate. The result: 60 bottles from each estate, created exclusively for you—a personal chapter added to Napa Valley's enduring narrative.

Your immersion continues with two days of private estate access for four guests. Behind-the-scenes tours. Curated library tastings. Intimate lunches with the estates' leadership. You will taste your custom blends at their earliest stage—experiencing the alchemy of terroir, intuition and legacy in real time.

Augmented by rare 3-liter celebratory vintages, one-year wine club memberships at both estates, luxury accommodations and private ground transportation; this is more than an acquisition.

It is stewardship.
It is authorship.

It is your place in the lineage of Napa Valley's greatest story.

Someone Believed in Me

Destiney's Story

Every child deserves the chance to believe in their own worth, even when the world has given them every reason not to.

For Destiney, that belief was something she had to fight for. Growing up in an environment where love was inconsistent and safety was never guaranteed, home was not a place of comfort. Destiney moved through the foster care system feeling invisible and like she didn't matter.

“I felt like my spirit was broken.
Like I had no future.”

But everything began to change the moment someone chose to see her potential.

“Someone believing in me, somehow helped me believe I could do it.
And honestly, that changed everything.”

Through the work of caring nonprofit organizations, she found more than resources; she found people who stayed, people who listened and people who reminded her that her story was not over. Slowly, she rebuilt her confidence, found her voice and her sense of self-worth.

The road was not easy, yet Destiney graduated from high school ahead of schedule having already earned college credits. Today, she's preparing for a future she once believed was out of reach.

“I've learned that I'm resilient.
I've worked hard to find my future”

She stands as a testament to what's possible when a community shows up for its youth.

Through our Youth Wellness Initiative, we are working to ensure more young people in Napa County have access to that same life-changing support. Please raise your paddle to help more young people, like Destiney, have the chance to build a future they believe in.

Thank You!
